

Nvidia Corp. (NVDA): Strong quarter and guidance; we see a clearer path to stock outperformance in the coming months - Buy

Key stock takeaways: We expect the stock to trade higher following a strong quarter and guidance relative to the Street, and relative bullish expectations heading into the quarter. We believe investor expectations were somewhat elevated heading into the quarter, given recent upward CapEx revisions from hyperscalers - but we believe 1Q guidance exceeded these. Unlike in some past quarters, we now see a clearer path for the stock to outperform the market over the coming months - and we see three key factors contributing to stock outperformance. First, we expect upside to CapEx forecasts from hyperscalers in 2026, and early indications of 2027 CapEx growth becoming apparent. Second, we expect additional visibility into spending intentions by Nvidia's non-traditional customers - such as OpenAI and Anthropic - through 2027 as their funding rounds are completed. Third, we expect Nvidia to reassert its competitive advantage over AI chip peers in the coming months as new AI models trained on Blackwell are released to the market. We reiterate our Buy rating on the stock as we see Nvidia accelerating its growth profile in 2026 while maintaining a competitive edge in the market - and our CY26 estimates stand ~18% above the Street.

Quarterly results were above the Street: Nvidia reported revenue of $68.1 bn, above GS at $67.3 bn and the Street at $66.2 bn. Gross margin of 75.2% was in line with GS at 75.2% and the Street at 75.1%. Operating margin of 67.7% was in line with GS at 67.7% and the Street at 67.6%. Operating EPS of $1.76 was above GS at $1.59 and the Street at $1.53. Data Center revenue of $62.3 bn was above GS at $61.3 bn and the Street at $60.5 bn. Gaming revenue of $3.7 bn was well below GS at $4.4 bn but above the Street at $4.0 bn. Professional Visualization revenue of $1.3 bn was far above GS at $798 mn and the Street at $778 mn. Automotive revenue of $604 mn was below GS at $649 mn and the Street at $651 mn. 1Q inventory was $21.4 bn (+8% QoQ), and DOI was 115 days (down 4 days QoQ). Accounts Receivables were $38.5 bn (+15% QoQ), and DSO was 51 days (down 2 days QoQ).

- Partnerships and investments: Nvidia indicated that it continues to be in active discussions with OpenAI regarding an investment and partnership, and expects to finalize an investment shortly. The company also finalized a $10 bn investment in Anthropic, which includes an agreement for Anthropic to train its LLMs on Blackwell and Rubin. Finally, Nvidia also announced a broad partnership with Meta. Nvidia will supply Meta with various Datacenter products, including Blackwell and Rubin GPUs, and implement a large-scale Nvidia Grace-only deployment. Both companies are collaborating to deploy Vera CPUs in 2027 and

- Gaming segment: Nvidia reported 4Q Gaming revenues of $3.7 bn, well below our estimates and consensus. Management noted that while demand for its Gaming products is strong, supply constraints were a headwind in 4Q – and are expected to be a headwind in 1Q and beyond.
- Gross margin: Nvidia reported and guided for gross margin of ~75%, and expects to be able to sustain gross margins in the mid-70% range throughout calendar 2026, despite the impact of significantly higher memory (HBM) prices. We believe this gross margin strength reflects significant advance purchase commitments tied to memory made by the company in 2025. Although management indicated that it will continue to monitor the potential impact to gross margin beyond 2026, the company believes that gross margins will continue to be driven by the level of annual cost reduction and delivering industry leading TCO is the top priority for continued proliferation of AI across agenticAI and physicalAI.

1Q revenue and gross margin guidance is above the Street, with EPS in line. Nvidia guided 1Q revenue and gross margin above the Street. Revenue was guided to $78.0 bn at the midpoint, which is above GS at $76.8 bn and well above the Street at $72.1 bn. Non-GAAP gross margin was guided to 75.0%, just above GS at 74.7% and the Street at 74.9%. OpEx was guided to $7.5 bn, OI&E was not guided in the release, and the non-GAAP tax rate was guided to 18%. Notably, Nvidia is now embedding ~$1.9bn of stock-based stock compensation in its non-GAAP guidance, which reflects an accounting change that reflects a core portion of its compensation program. We calculate implied non-GAAP EPS (which now includes SBC) of $1.72, which is not comparable to GS at $1.80 and the Street at $1.67 (which had excluded SBC). On a like-for-like basis, non-GAAP EPS (ex SBC) guidance would have been $1.79.

Read-through to our coverage: We believe the 1Q Data Center segment guidance points to a solid AI spending environment, and is most constructive for our digital semiconductor coverage including Broadcom and AMD — and to a lesser extent for Marvell and ARM. Given other names have also traded up driven by strength in AI spending, we also see a second-derivative read-across from these results to Memory and Storage names (MU, SNDK, STX, WDC), and a third-derivative read-across to Semicap stocks (LAM, AMAT, KLAC) in our coverage.

Estimate changes. We raise our EPS estimates by an average of 2% to mainly reflect higher revenue, partially offset by higher tax rate relative to our previous assumptions, consistent with company guidance (see detailed estimates below – Exhibit 3).

Price target and risks: We are Buy rated on NVDA. Our 12-month price target of $250 (unchanged) is based on a 30X P/E multiple applied to our normalized EPS estimate of $8.25. Key downside risks include: (1) slowdown in AI infrastructure spending, (2) share erosion due to increased competitive intensity, (3) margin erosion due to increased competition; (4) supply constraints.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Quantum is Goldman Sachs' proprietary database providing access to detailed financial statement histories, forecasts and ratios. It can be used for in-depth analysis of a single company, or to make comparisons between companies in different sectors and markets.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.
